► Introduction

Manchester Metropolitan University (Manchester Met) has a licence with the Home Office and this permits the University to sponsor your immigration for the purpose of study at Manchester Met only.

This document is divided into three sections.

The first section explains the reporting and record-keeping duties of the University. It also explains what you need to do during your studies at Manchester Met to protect your immigration status in the UK. By enrolling with the University, you agree to meet these responsibilities. If you do not, it may affect your stay in the UK.

The Record Keeping and Reporting sections in this booklet are divided into sections, in order to explain your rights and your responsibilities to the University as your Tier 4 (General) sponsor. The subheadings include Home Office Rule, University Responsibility and Your Responsibility.

The Home Office can contact us at any time to ask about your student status and progress on your course. This may also include information about your attendance/absence rates on the course. Any changes to your student status are reported to the Home Office through your Certificate of Acceptance for Studies (CAS) number. Reporting to the Home Office is completed through the Home Office Sponsorship Management System.

Please remember that your entry clearance or leave to remain has been granted subject to the conditions stated in Part 6A of the Immigration Rules (entry clearance – para 245ZW and leave to remain – para 245ZY): www.gov.uk/guidance/immigration-rules/immigration-rules-part-6a-the-points-based-system

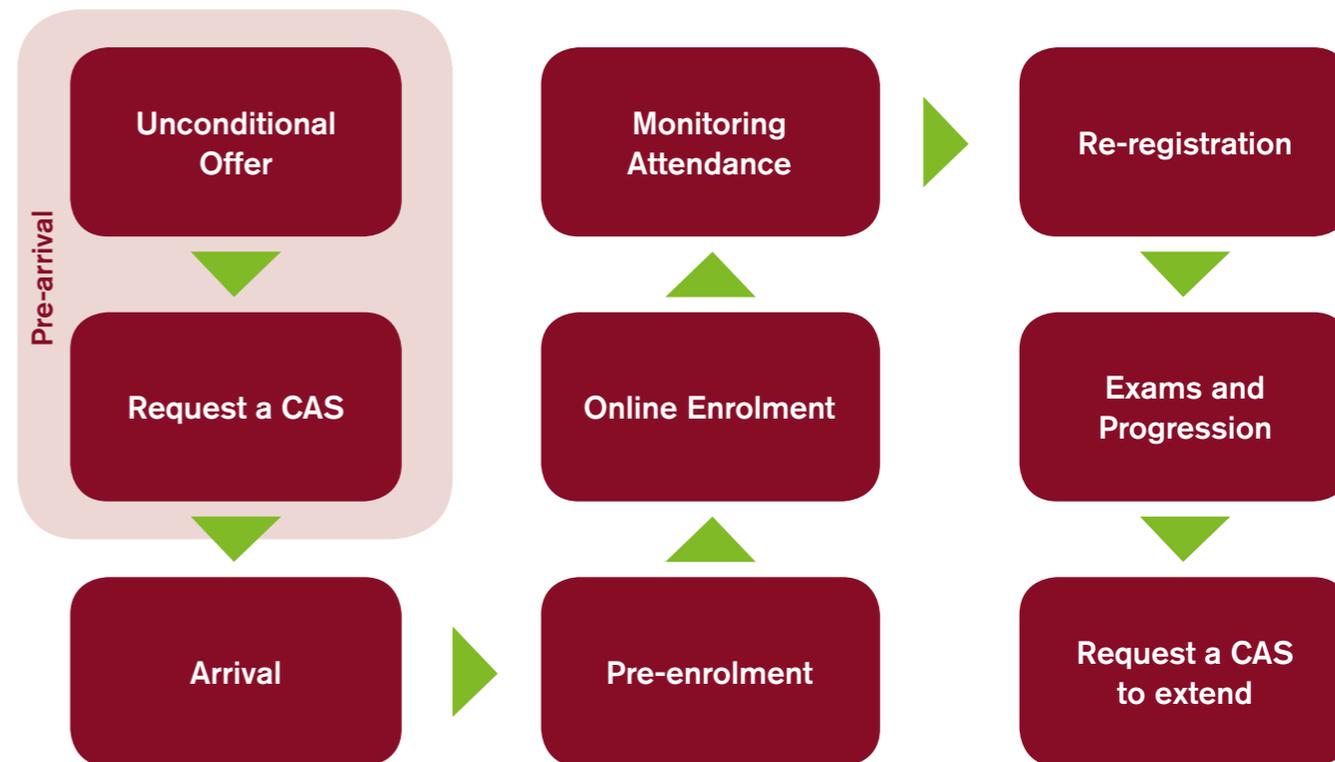

We recommend you read the general good practice guide for protecting and maintaining your Tier 4 status published by the UK Council for International Student Affairs (UKCISA): www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Visas-and-Immigration/Protecting-your-Tier-4-status

The second section provides useful information about your Tier 4 student journey within your local community. This includes registering with the police (if required), who is eligible for healthcare in the UK and how to register with a GP. There is also useful information about volunteering and how best to protect your immigration status in the UK to ensure you work within the permitted weekly hours as stipulated on your immigration permission.

The third section is about your Tier 4 student journey with a potential employer in the UK. This section provides useful information about employment during and after your studies.

► Your Tier 4 Student Journey with Manchester Met

The diagram below provides an overview of your Tier 4 student journey at Manchester Met. A description of each stage can be found on the following pages.

Unconditional Offer

Your journey with Manchester Met started when you submitted an application to study at the University. The Recruitment and Admissions department assessed whether you met the University entry requirements to join and complete the course of your choice. If you met the University entry requirements, you received an Unconditional Offer to study at Manchester Met.

Request a CAS

After you accepted your Unconditional Offer, you paid a deposit towards your tuition fees and then requested a Confirmation of Acceptance of Studies (CAS) from the International Admissions team. The team checked that you met the Home Office requirements to gain entry or Leave to Remain in the UK.

Monitoring Attendance

If you are an undergraduate or postgraduate student on a taught course, you will need to self-register your attendance to prove to the University that you are not in breach of entry clearance or Leave to Remain in the UK. For postgraduate research students, your attendance is monitored through the submission of monthly RD9 forms - available on Skills Forge.

Re-registration

At the start of each term, you will need to check-in at one of the Student Hubs and complete re-registration. Re-registration is compulsory and requires you to meet with a member of Manchester Met staff to prove you are still physically in the UK. If you miss re-registration, the University assumes you are not in the UK and no longer want to study at Manchester Met.

Exams and Progression

The University will check how you perform in exams. If you did not do as well as you had hoped, you may need to complete re-sits and re-assessments over the summer or repeat units the next academic year. Any extra time you need to finish your course may affect your immigration status and stay in the UK.

Request a CAS to extend

This applies to you if you need a bit longer to finish your course at Manchester Met. You need to request a second CAS from the International Office. The International Office will check that you meet the Home Office requirements to gain entry or Leave to Remain in the UK - available at: www.mmu.ac.uk/international/visas-and-immigration

► Your Tier 4 Student Journey

Arrival

If you applied from your country of residence and your visa application was successful, you were given a 30 day travel visa for entry to the UK under Tier 4. The actual visa will be issued as a Biometric Residence Permit (BRP) and you must collect this within 10 days of your arrival in the UK, from the Post Office branch stated on your decision letter, or before your travel visa expires, whichever is the later date. If you applied from within the UK, you will be issued with a Biometric Residence Permit (BRP) and it will be sent to your correspondence address by courier.

Pre-enrolment

Before you can enrol at Manchester Met you must complete pre-enrolment. During pre-enrolment, staff assess you are eligible to enrol at Manchester Met and take copies of various documents including your passport and visa.

Complete Online Enrolment

You complete your enrolment online followed by collecting your Manchester Met ID card from your Faculty's Student Hub. Your academic journey starts with your Faculty induction. You must attend all your induction sessions to make the best start on your course.

► Record Keeping Duties

The Home Office can contact the University at any time to request documents and information about each Tier 4 student. The section below provides information about which documents the University must show the Home Office and when these are collected during your student journey at Manchester Met. Admissions and International Office staff undertake the record keeping duties at the University.

► Home Office Rule

A Tier 4 sponsor must keep a copy of the following for Non-EEA students:

1. Passport
2. Evidence of immigration documents for the UK
3. Record of attendance/absence
4. Up-to-date contact details
5. Academic Technology Approval Scheme (ATAS) clearance certificate (if needed)
6. For under 18s, a copy of the letter of consent from Parent or Guardian
7. Copies of evidence used to assess your eligibility to join a Manchester Met course

► The University's Responsibility

We must provide copies of your passport to the Home Office, evidence of immigration documents for the UK, your contact details, ATAS clearance certificate (if needed), a copy of the letter of consent from a Parent or Guardian if you are under 18 at enrolment and copies of evidence used to assess your eligibility to join a Manchester Met course. The Home Office can also ask for information about your attendance/absence rates on the course. For attendance related issues, please refer to the Reporting Duties section in this booklet.

► Record Keeping Duties

► Your Responsibility and Required Action

At Pre-enrolment

Pre-enrolment is obligatory for all new students and takes place at the beginning of each academic year. If you are a new student to the University you must submit originals of your passport, evidence of immigration documents for the UK, ATAS clearance certificate, a letter of consent from your Parent or Guardian if you are under 18, and evidence used to assess your eligibility to join a Manchester Met course (i.e. original qualifications, including proof of English language proficiency).

If you are a returning student and the University does not have an up-to-date passport and immigration documents on file, you will be blocked from online enrolment and must participate in pre-enrolment. You must submit originals of your passport and evidence of immigration documents for the UK.

If you cannot provide up-to-date immigration documents for the UK, you will not be permitted to join or return to your course. Documents that you can submit at pre-enrolment to show you are entitled to enter or remain in the UK include:

- 30 day travel visa and decision letter from the Home Office
- Front and reverse side of your Biometric Residence Permit

Research students who arrive at different times of the year (i.e. after the main enrolment sessions in September and January), must contact their Faculty Research Administrator to make appropriate arrangements for pre-enrolment and induction.

During Re-registration

Manchester Met has mandatory re-registration sessions at the beginning of each term for all Tier 4 students. During re-registration you must check-in at a Student Hub in person to show the University that you have returned to Manchester Met after the term breaks. You will also be requested to confirm that your contact details are correct. If you miss re-registration, do not submit coursework and/or attend classes, this could result in you receiving a formal warning and ultimately more serious sanctions, for example you being withdrawn from the University.

If you have outstanding immigration issues, you will be invited to meet with the International Office to provide an update on your immigration status. It is your responsibility to update the International Office on a regular basis regarding changes or updates to your immigration status. If you do not, the University will assume you do not have permission to stay in the UK and you will be withdrawn from your course. You can contact the International Office by email at internationalenrol@mmu.ac.uk to confirm your student status. If you do not have permission to be in the UK, the International Office will ask to see evidence of your travel plans to depart the UK.

Updating your contact details

Whenever there is a change to your contact details (for example changing your UK address, telephone number or email) you must inform the University and the Home Office. We will also ask you to confirm that your contact details are correct at re-registration.

The University must always have your permanent and temporary address. You can update your contact details online through the University's Contacts Management System www.mmu.ac.uk/enrol. You can also visit a Student Hub to update your details in person.

You are required to update the Home Office if your contact details change at any time during your studies and also if you are likely to be at your new address for at least six months. The following link provides information of how you report the change: www.gov.uk/change-circumstances-visa-brp/overview

Renewing your ATAS

It is a mandatory requirement for those intending to undertake postgraduate studies leading to a Doctorate or Masters degree in certain designated subjects to obtain an ATAS clearance certificate. For more information about the scheme and for a list of subjects that require an ATAS please go to: www.gov.uk/guidance/academic-technology-approval-scheme

Returning students must apply for a new ATAS clearance certificate if you have:

- changed your course (including the area of research/module change)
- changed your institution
- applied to extend your leave in order to complete your course
- changed the length of your course, even if you are still able to complete your studies within your current leave

If ATAS clearance is refused by the Foreign and Commonwealth Office, regrettably you will not be permitted to join or continue on your course at Manchester Met.

All copies or scans of your documents are uploaded centrally to the University Student Record System.

I want to transfer courses within the University	You decide to transfer courses, for example you move from a Business Management to a Financial Management course.	If you would like to transfer courses after you have enrolled, you must consult your Personal Tutor or Programme Leader. Your Faculty Programmes Office will approve the transfer and make the changes to your student record. The University will report the change to the Home Office and provide the name of the new course, campus address and details if the duration of the course will become longer or shorter. If your previous course is unrelated to the new course, and you are unable to justify that the two courses combined support your career aspirations, then you will need to make a new Tier 4 application from outside of the UK. Please be aware that all course transfers are at the discretion of the compliance team. If your course will become longer, you will need to return to your country of permanent residence during a holiday period, apply for a new CAS to make a new Tier 4 (General) visa application. For more information about how to apply for a CAS, go to: www.mmu.ac.uk/international/visas-and-immigration	✓ Yes

In all of the above scenarios, where the University has reported your change in student status to the Home Office through your CAS number and you no longer have permission to stay in the UK, your visa will be curtailed/cancelled by the Home Office. For more information about curtailment/cancellation of your Tier 4 visa please see: www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Visas-and-Immigration/Protecting-your-Tier-4-status

For Manchester Metropolitan University term dates please refer to: www.mmu.ac.uk/about/termdates. Please note that if you are completing a postgraduate taught course (e.g. MA or MSc) at the University the term dates may not apply to you. For example, during the summer and autumn term while you are collecting data and writing up your dissertation you are considered to be studying full time.

► Time Limits

The Home Office has introduced a time limit or 'Cap' for the Tier 4 (General) Student route. Any delays you experience in your studies may affect your future stay in the UK and extending your visa under the Tier 4 route. For a course below degree level, the limit is 2 years, for all degree level courses, the limit is 5 years and for a second research degree (MRes, MPhil and PhD) the limit is 8 years.

The Home Office will consider how much leave you have already received to study in the UK with a student visa. They will base their calculation on the 'valid from' date and the 'valid until' date of each period of leave. If the time exceeds the limit you will not be granted a visa.

The Immigration Rules make it clear that it is the period of leave that you have previously been granted that will count towards the time limits, even if you did not spend all of this time studying and/or you used this time to study a different level of course. However, paragraph 109 of the Home Office's Tier 4 policy guidance states that if your leave has been curtailed, the date that your curtailed leave expired will be used: www.gov.uk/government/publications/guidance-on-application-for-uk-visa-as-tier-4-student

Any study you have completed on a non-Tier 4 visa (Dependent, Short Term Study visa etc.) will not be counted towards the cap.

Please be aware of the following exceptions to the time cap rules:

- Courses in architecture, medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine and science, or music at a conservatoire, are exempt from the limit
- If you have completed a UK degree, and your current Tier 4 application is to study certain legal qualifications (CPE, GDL/LPC or BPTC), the legal qualification is exempt from the limit
- If you are applying to study a course at a higher education institution (HEI) and the 5-year cap would prevent you from completing a fifth academic year at degree level or above, then the limit is extended to five years and 11 months
- If you have successfully completed a UK degree course which was at least four years long, and your Tier 4 application is to study a masters degree at a higher education institution (recognised body or institution in receipt of public funding), the limit is six years
- If your Tier 4 application is to study a PhD at a higher education institution, there is no limit while you are studying the PhD

If you are concerned that you have reached your time limit and will not be able to extend your visa to complete your course, please send an email to visaextension@mmu.ac.uk

For further information, please refer to UKCISA on 'Time limit (cap) on study': www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Visas-and-Immigration/Tier-4-eligibility-and-requirements

► Visa Refusals

The University must report when your visa application has been refused by the Home Office within 10 days of receiving this information. If you receive a visa refusal notification from the Home Office, you must submit all the pages of the refusal notice as a PDF document by email to visaextension@mmu.ac.uk. The University will report the visa refusal to the Home Office.

If you think the refusal was incorrect, you can ask for an 'Administrative Review'. The University will not report the visa refusal in this instance; however, you must email us at visaextension@mmu.ac.uk and provide proof of submitting an 'Administrative Review'. You must update the University by email as soon as you have the outcome of the 'Administrative Review'. Failure to inform the University will result in more serious sanctions which may include suspension/withdrawal from your course.

► Overstaying

Overstaying means that you have stayed beyond the end date of your immigration permission, for example you stayed in the UK after your visa expired. Overstaying is a criminal offence. There is no 'grace period' within which you can lawfully overstay. If you overstay for more than 14 days you will not be allowed to apply for further leave to remain from within the UK. If you overstay by more than 90 days you will not be allowed to apply for further leave to remain from within the UK and will be subject to a re-entry ban for at least 12 months.

If you make a visa application in the UK while you are an overstayer, you are in the UK unlawfully pending the decision from the Home Office, therefore, Manchester Met will not allow you to continue your studies. You will be referred to the Immigration and Welfare Team to discuss your situation and get immigration advice. You may have to suspend/intercalate your studies depending on your situation and country of residence to protect your immigration status in the UK. Manchester Met will not issue a CAS to an overstayer unless you depart the UK and apply for a visa from your country of residence.

Overstaying will have serious consequences for any future immigration applications that you make, including applications for other countries. You must be honest in immigration applications and declare any periods of overstay if asked about them.

Should evidence present itself that you have intentionally overstayed your visa and you did not make any efforts to inform the University and depart the UK, this will result in more serious sanctions. You will be withdrawn from the University because it is a criminal offence to knowingly overstay.

► Employment

The number of hours you are permitted to work is stated on your visa or Biometric Residence Permit.

Level of course	Hours per week during term time	Hours per week during vacations
A course at or above UK degree level Example BA or BSc (Hons)	The maximum amount of part-time work you can do during term time is 20 hours per week, if you are studying and remain enrolled at Manchester Met.	You can work full-time during vacations.
A course that is below UK degree level Example HND or BTEC Foundation	You are limited to 10 hours per week if you are studying and remain enrolled at Manchester Met.	You can work full-time during vacations.
Postgraduate taught courses	You are limited to work 20 hours per week until you have submitted your dissertation and do not have any further academic commitments. You are not permitted to work full-time while you are completing your dissertation at Manchester Met. For example during the summer and autumn term while you are collecting data and writing up your dissertation you are considered to be studying full-time.	If you are completing a postgraduate taught course (MA or MSc) the University's term dates do not apply to you as your course is full-time for 12/15 months.
Postgraduate research courses	All full-time research students are limited to no more than 20 hours paid employment per week throughout the duration of their research degree. This rule is set by the University. This is to ensure that students do not compromise their ability to successfully complete their research degree programme.	The University's term dates do not apply to you as your course is full-time.

Please visit page 38 for further information on Manchester Met's student employment policy.

Police Registration

Your visa, passport stamp, BRP or letter from the UK embassy should tell you if you must register with the police. Appendix 2 of the immigration rules also list those nationals who are required to register, the list can be accessed here: www.gov.uk/guidance/immigration-rules

Failure to register with the police is an offence under Section 26(1) (f) of the Immigration Act 1971 and where you fail to register, the police can consider prosecution. You may be liable to arrest and could face a fine of up to £5,000, six months imprisonment, or both. Your stay in the UK may also be affected and future visa applications will be refused if you have failed to register. If you are late registering with the police they will place a 'late notification' stamp on your police registration certificate and inform the Home Office. This may affect your next visa application.

You are advised not to carry the Police Registration Certificate (PRC) with you but to keep it in a safe place together with your passport/travel documents. If you are asked to produce the Police Registration Certificate, you will be given 48 hours in which to do so at any police station.

If you need to register with the police, you can make an appointment at the Information Desk during the International Welcome Programme. If you arrive after the International Welcome Programme please email internationalwelcome@mmu.ac.uk to arrange an appointment.

If you are living in Crewe, you can book a Police Registration appointment by calling +44 (0)1244 350000 or emailing registration@cheshire.pnn.police.uk

Opening a Bank Account

During the International Welcome Programme you will get a chance to open a bank account. To open an account, most banks will require a letter to confirm enrolment from the University before they will open an account for you. You can request for this letter via the Student Hub after you have completed pre-enrolment and online enrolment.

You can find more information at: www.mmu.ac.uk/international/arrival/opening-a-bank-account

Healthcare and the NHS

During your time here in the UK, it is likely at some point that you will need to access healthcare services. Healthcare in the UK is provided by the National Health Service (NHS). Treatment for accident & emergencies is free for everyone and some services, such as family planning and infectious diseases, are also provided for free.

If you have a visa for longer than 6 months, you and your dependants are entitled to all NHS care provided for free, as you will have paid an Immigration Health Surcharge prior to your visa being issued.

If you are a non-EU student on a course of less than six months, you should purchase healthcare insurance to cover any charges from the NHS. Any services you are required to pay for will be charged at 150% of the usual tariff.

Registering with a GP

Students who have a visa for longer than 6 months and are permitted free healthcare should register with a doctor as soon as possible. For further information, please see Student Services Health Advice www.mmu.ac.uk/sas/student-services/health.php or the NHS Health Services providers www.nhs.uk/service-search

When registering with the GP you should remember to take a Proof of Study letter available from the Student Hub. If you are eligible for NHS care you can also apply for an European Health Insurance Card to cover healthcare on any travel in mainland Europe, for more information regarding this please see: www.nhs.uk/NHSEngland/Healthcareabroad/EHIC/Pages/about-the-ehic.aspx

For information on healthcare in the UK and how to stay healthy, please see the help sheet from the UK Council for International Student Affairs: www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Studying--living-in-the-UK/Health-and-healthcare

Maternity Leave

If you become pregnant during your studies there are a variety of factors to consider regarding whether you need to, or wish to, change your study plans:

- Can you realistically continue your studies whilst pregnant or in the immediate months after the baby is born?
- When is your due date and does your due date fall around a crucial time of your studies?
- Are you able to financially support yourself and child in the UK whilst studying?
- Are you financially sponsored and if so have you informed your sponsor of your circumstances and agreed an appropriate plan of action with them?
- Would it be appropriate for you to take a suspension of studies?
- If you plan on returning home to give birth most airlines will not carry pregnant passengers beyond the 7th month of pregnancy, can you return home at a suitable point in your studies?

- If you are not able to maintain your engagement in studies, Manchester Met will cease sponsoring your Tier 4 visa. You would then need to return home and apply for new visa when you are able to recommence studying. If you seek healthcare in the UK between suspension of study and departing the UK you may be required to pay. This is because you will no longer be an active student and the immigration health surcharge you paid will no longer apply.

Please be aware pregnancy is not considered a viable reason for exceptional factors, however, complications related to pregnancy can be considered. You should seek further advice from your Student Support Officer or the Immigration and Welfare team if necessary.

Volunteering and Voluntary work

During your studies you may wish to do some volunteering or voluntary work to help you get more experience and skills. You should be aware of the differences in what is volunteering and what is voluntary work and whether your visa permits you to carry out voluntary work.

- Voluntary work/workers: this is unpaid employment and usually has contractual obligations to perform the work, for example, to attend at specific times and carry out specific tasks. The contract does not have to be written.

Tier 4 visa holders can carry out voluntary work. Any voluntary hours worked should be included when calculating the hours permitted under your Tier 4 visa.

- Volunteering: students who are volunteering do not have a contract, are not a substitute for an employee and must not be doing unpaid work or receiving payment in kind. Students who are volunteering are sometimes reimbursed reasonable travel and subsistence expenses and usually help a charity, voluntary or public sector organisation. Volunteering is usually considered an additional beneficial extra to support work done by employees, if there were no volunteers the work would still be carried out.

Volunteering is not considered unpaid employment therefore; students on Short-term Study visa holders are permitted to volunteer.

If you wish to find a volunteering opportunity please get in touch with The Union at Manchester Met here: www.theunionmmu.org/your-opportunities/volunteering

Academic Technology Approval Scheme - ATAS

You may be required to obtain an ATAS certificate if your course leads to a qualification at postgraduate level and is in a specified subject area. The subject areas which require ATAS relate to where the knowledge gained may have application in the development of weapons of mass destruction (for example, certain science subjects, mathematics, engineering, technology or medicine). The certificate is issued by the Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO) and must be obtained prior to an application for Tier 4 student leave.

Manchester Met will confirm in your CAS whether you require an ATAS clearance certificate or not.

If you need to extend your Tier 4 visa and your course requires an ATAS certificate you will need to apply for a new certificate every time you apply for an extension to your Tier 4 visa. You can check the list of subject areas that require an ATAS clearance certificate in the applicants' criteria section of the ATAS website: www.gov.uk/guidance/academic-technology-approval-scheme

► Your Tier 4 Student Journey with an Employer

Employment During Your Studies

If you have Tier 4 immigration permission to study at Manchester Met your visa should have been granted with the following work permission:

Your course level as stated on your CAS is:	Work permission
NQF level 3 or you are taking a pre-sessional course at B2 level	Part-time work up to 10 hours per week during term time and full-time during vacations
NQF level 6 or above	Part-time work up to 20 hours per week during term time and full-time during vacations

Term dates are available on our website here: www.mmu.ac.uk/about/termdates, please note, masters students do not have vacation periods except at Christmas and Easter.

All students with work permission also have the following restrictions:

- you cannot fill a full-time permanent vacancy
- no self-employment (this means no freelance or consultancy work and you cannot set up your own business)
- no work as a professional sports person or entertainer

The permitted term-time hours does not mean an average of 10/20 hours, it means you cannot work more than 10/20 hours in any rolling seven-day period. You can work for several different employers, but the total hours over all your jobs should not exceed the maximum permitted.

It is your responsibility to ensure you do not breach the conditions of your visa. You should keep a log of the hours you have worked in case you ever need this for future reference, for example write the time and hours worked in a diary or keep a log on the calendar of your mobile phone.

There is a free app available for android phones called 'Tier Four Work Hours Calculator' which may help you manage your working hours.

The Home Office can and do make unannounced visits to employers to check on illegal working and by obtaining information from the tax department, HMRC. The UK immigration authorities take working too many hours very seriously and you could be removed from the UK and refused future visa applications if you have been in breach of your work conditions.

For more information, please see the UK Council for International Student Affairs: www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Working/Can-you-work and the Tier 4 policy guidance: www.gov.uk/government/publications/guidance-on-application-for-uk-visa-as-tier-4-student

If you have immigration permission (a visa) for the UK that is not a Tier 4 visa, for example Short-Term study or PBS dependant please check your visa for your work permissions.

Undergraduate Programmes

Students on full-time undergraduate programmes may not be employed by the University for more than 16 hours per week in term-time. The University's standard term dates will apply, except where specific term dates are approved for individual programmes. Outside of the relevant term dates, there is no restriction on the number of hours per week for which a full-time undergraduate student can be employed by the University.

Postgraduate Taught Programmes

Students on full-time postgraduate taught programmes are required to spend the Summer vacation (i.e. from the end of the Summer Term to the beginning of the Autumn Term) working on a 60-credit project/dissertation. This period is therefore, treated as being equivalent to term-time for these students. As a consequence, they may not be employed by the University for more than 16 hours per week, except during the Christmas vacation (i.e. from the end of the Autumn Term until the beginning of the Spring Term) and the Easter vacation (i.e. from the end of the Spring Term until the beginning of the Summer Term), when there is no restriction on the number of hours per week for which a full-time taught postgraduate student can be employed by the University.

Research Degree Programmes

There are no term dates for students on full-time postgraduate research programmes. These students have 30 days of annual leave, the timing of which is approved by their supervisor. For wellbeing reasons, the University takes the view that annual leave should be regarded as a break and not as an opportunity to engage in employment within the University. Therefore, full-time postgraduate research students cannot be employed by the University for more than 16 hours per week at any time of the year. There are no University restrictions on working hours for part-time postgraduate research degree students.

Employment After Your Studies

After your course has finished and you have graduated, you may want to stay in the UK and work. If you have a Tier 4 visa you are permitted to work full-time in a temporary position until your Tier 4 visa expires. If you wish to fulfil a permanent position in the UK, you would be required to apply for a Tier 2 work visa and this requires a prospective employer to hold a Tier 2 licence, similar to Manchester Met supporting your Tier 4 visa.

Finding a permanent position in the UK after your studies can be challenging. However, Manchester Met's Careers and Employability Service offers various support such as career guidance and job hunting, writing a CV and interview techniques, amongst others.

When looking for post-study work you should check that a prospective employer holds a Tier 2 licence, this can be checked on the UK government website: www.gov.uk/government/publications/register-of-licensed-sponsors-workers

There are a variety of other types of visas which permit staying in the UK after you have finished your studies, these are:

- Visa or Biometric Residence Permit (BRP): is a document issued by the Home Office as evidence of their immigration permission (also known as leave to enter or remain).
- Tier 4 sponsor: When you apply for your Tier 4 (General) student visa, your name is added to a University's sponsor license number. Manchester Metropolitan University is your Tier 4 sponsor if your visa has the University's sponsor license number on it.
- Non-EEA: You reside outside the European Economic Area.
- Tier 4 (General) Student Visa: If you are studying on a full time degree programme for longer than six months, you must apply for a Tier 4 Student visa. You need a CAS from a Tier 4 sponsor. In most cases you can extend your immigration permission in the UK and switch into a work category. You can work a maximum of 20 hours per week during term-time (or 10 hours if you are studying below degree level). You can use the National Health Service. You can bring dependents if your programme is 12 months or longer and you are studying at postgraduate level or your programme is 6 months or longer and you have a full government scholarship (www.gov.uk/tier-4-general-visa).
- Short-Term Study Visa: If you are studying on a degree programme that is less than six months in duration. You cannot extend your immigration permission in the UK. You are only able to spend a maximum of six months in the UK as a visitor in any 12 month period. You cannot work paid or unpaid. You cannot use the National Health Service, so you will need to have medical health insurance. You cannot bring dependents (www.gov.uk/study-visit-visa/overview).
- Permanent address: This is the address of residence in your home country. A permanent address cannot be a UK address if you are a Tier 4 student.
- Temporary address: This is your actual and current address (house, apartment) where you live in or near Manchester or Crewe while you are studying at Manchester Met.
- Withdraw: You wish to drop out and leave from your course.

- Intercalate: You wish to take time out from your course before you enrol, with the intention of rejoining it again the next academic year.
- Continued Participation: The Home Office has defined continued participation as attending classes or having contact with the University. If you do not have classes or contact with the University for more than 60 days (except for recognised vacation periods) and you have ongoing permission to stay in the UK, the University must tell the Home Office and you will be advised to leave the UK. If your permission is due to expire, the University can only assign a CAS when you are ready to return to the UK.
