The maximum time limit can only be extended where a student has approved Exceptional Factors as in Regulation B26, with the approval of the BSB.

If the Programme Leader considers that the reasons for the request are valid, they may agree to a suspension of studies for a period of up to one year, taking account of the implications of the timing and duration of the suspension for the student's engagement with the programme and with assessment and re-assessment opportunities. Decisions regarding second or subsequent requests for suspension of studies should be made by the Head of School.

Assessment, Progression, Re-assessment

Assessment

B1. Students must pass the specified number and level of credits for any award for which they are eligible in order to gain that award. A final award shall only be granted to students who have demonstrated achievement of the learning outcomes for the programme on which they are registered.

B2. The MMU Procedure for Handling Academic Misconduct shall apply to all students undertaking the awards outlined in Regulation A1.

LPC students guilty of Academic Misconduct should refer to the SRA Suitability Test (<http://www.sra.org.uk/solicitors/handbook/suitabilitytest/content.page>)

Where BPTC students are found to have committed academic misconduct, the University will report this to the student's registered Inn of Court.

B3. All summative assessments (including re-assessments) will be based on the law in force at the time of the assessment, regardless of the law taught to students during the course.

B4. In sitting or submitting an assessment, students undertaking LPC or BPTC assessments confirm that they are fit to sit or submit the assessment and they are not aware of any reasons existing at the time of sitting or submitting the assessment which may give rise to an Exceptional Factors claim.

B5. Students who submit assessments after the published deadline shall be deemed to have failed the relevant assessment.

B6. Summative assessment marks shall be subject to internal and external moderation before final confirmation by the Assessment Board, in accordance with the University's Procedures for the Verification, Marking and Moderation of Assessments, apart from the following BPTC knowledge assessments, which are centrally set and marked by the Bar Standards Board and are not subject to these University procedures:

- Civil Litigation, Evidence and Remedies
- Criminal Litigation, Evidence and Sentencing
- Professional Ethics

Progression

B7. Student progression shall be determined by their performance in, and engagement with, the summative assessments in the units on which they are enrolled.

B8. For all assessments undertaken for the following awards, a summative element of assessment shall be passed when students achieve a mark of at least 50%:

- LL.M
- LL.M in Equality Law
- LL.M in European Law
- LL.M in Human Rights
- LL.M in Law and Society
- LL.M in International Business Law

B9. For LPC assessments, with the exception of those given in B10, a summative element of assessment shall be passed when students achieve a mark of at least 50%.

B10. LPC Course Skills assessments (i.e. Advocacy, Drafting, Interviewing and Advising, Practical Legal Research, Writing) and the assessment of Wills and Administration of Estates shall be assessed on a competent / not yet competent basis and shall not contribute to a student's final Manchester Met award classification.

B11. For all BPTC assessments, a summative element of assessment shall be passed when students achieve a mark of at least 60%, unless the "Red Light Rule" is applied as outlined in Regulation B12.

B12. The BPTC Red Light Rule

The Red Light Rule may be applied for all BPTC skills assessments (i.e. Advocacy, Conference Skills, Opinion Writing and Drafting). Even if a student gains an average overall pass, they may fail a skills assessment if their legal or case analysis is so clearly incorrect that it would:

- Put the interests of the client(s) at risk, and/or
- Put the barrister at risk of liability for negligence or a disciplinary finding

A student may also be failed if it is found that they have committed a "fatal flaw", which is defined for these purposes as a significant and grave error of law or procedure. However an Ethics issue in a skills assessment may also be regarded for consideration as a "fatal flaw". For further guidance on the definition of a "fatal flaw" please see Bar Standards Board guidance.

B13. BPTC knowledge assessments (i.e. Civil Litigation, Evidence and Remedies; Criminal Litigation, Evidence and Sentencing; Professional Ethics) are centrally set and marked by the Bar Standards Board and are reported to the University by the BSB.

B14. For the awards of LL.M in Legal Practice [Top-Up], LL.M in Legal Practice [Full Award] and LL.M in Legal Practice at the Bar, the 60-credit Dissertation/Research Project shall be passed when students achieve a mark of at least 50%.

B15. Students undertaking assessments for any of the awards outlined in Regulation A1 shall not be entitled to a compensated or condoned pass in any assessment.

B16. The BPTC Attendance Rule

BPTC students must attend a minimum of 80% of sessions to achieve a pass on the BPTC. A student who falls below 80% attendance shall fail the BPTC and/or may be required to withdraw from the course. This requirement may be relaxed or adjusted by the provider in an individual case where this is necessary to comply with the Equality Act 2010 (or any replacement of that Act).

Re-assessment

B17. Students shall always be required to undertake re-assessment where they have failed to achieve a mark of Competent or a weighted average mark of at least 50% (60% for BPTC units) in a unit. In addition, in the LPC Professional Conduct and Regulation unit, students must achieve a mark of at least 50% in each element of summative assessment in order to pass the unit. Except in the LPC Professional Conduct and Regulation unit, where a student is required to undertake re-assessment, they will do so in all elements of the unit, regardless of whether one element was passed at an earlier attempt. For the BPTC, each unit only contains one element of assessment.

B18. Re-assessment shall normally take place at the next available assessment point after the associated period of student learning. For the BPTC, scheduling of re-assessments is at the discretion of the Assessment Board.

B19. LPC students shall have an automatic right to two opportunities of re-assessment in any failed unit. The number of attempts undertaken to pass any failed unit shall be recorded on their transcript.

B20. BPTC students shall have an automatic right to two opportunities of re-assessment in any failed unit. However, the number of attempts undertaken to pass any failed unit shall be recorded on their transcript and shall affect their final award classification as follows:

- Outstanding – students must pass all assessments on first attempt
- Very Competent – students may pass one assessment on their second or third attempt, but must pass all other assessments on first attempt
- Competent – students may pass all assessments on their second or third attempt

B21. Students who fail the 60-credit Dissertation for the LL.M or LL.M (named routes), or the 60-credit Dissertation/Research Project for the LL.M in Legal Practice (Top-Up and Full Award) or LL.M in Legal Practice at the Bar, shall have one opportunity only to redeem the initial failure.

B22. No re-assessment shall be permitted to enable students to improve upon a unit mark above the pass level, except where they have been permitted to be re-assessed as if for the first time due to approved Exceptional Factors.

B23. For those units that are marked on a percentage basis, unit marks where re-assessment has taken place will be shown as capped at 50%, or 60% for BPTC units.

B24. Where an LPC student fails a Stage 1 assessment following a final re-assessment attempt, they will have failed Stage 1 overall. In such circumstances, if a student wishes to obtain the LPC qualification they must re-enrol on Stage 1 and must re-take all Stage 1 assessments without exception. Students re-enrolling must do so with attendance and will be liable for the relevant tuition fee.

B25. Where an LPC student fails a Vocational Elective at Stage 2 following a final re-assessment attempt, they will have failed that Vocational Elective and must re-enrol on the failed elective with attendance or apply for admission to an alternative elective. Students who then re-enrol and pass will still be able to gain the LPC qualification as accredited by the SRA, but will not be eligible for any Manchester Met award. Students re-enrolling for a vocational elective under this regulation must do so with attendance and will be liable for the relevant tuition fee.

B26. If it is established that a student's absence, failure to submit work or poor performance in all or part of an assessment was due to illness or other Exceptional Factors found valid on production of acceptable evidence, they shall have the right to be re-assessed as if for the first time in any or all assessments, as specified by the Assessment Board. If an assessment affected by illness or other Exceptional Factors was itself a second (or further) attempt, the student shall be permitted to be re-assessed again as if for the second (or a further) time.

B27. In the event that an LPC or BPTC student sits or submits assessment(s) and subsequently applies for Exceptional Factors, the University must be satisfied that the judgement of the student in deciding to sit or submit the assessment was so impaired that the student was not capable of making that decision.
